Business Spotlight:

In 1984, a small group of concerned citizens gathered around a kitchen table in Island Park to discuss the future of the Henry's Fork River. In their first few years, the group worked to protect the river from multiple hydropower developments near (and including) Mesa Falls, and restore the banks of the river in Island Park where they had begun to degrade. Now, 35 years later, 14 staff members and 18 board members strive to honor that legacy of conservation through projects and programs ranging from water quality monitoring to river access and education.

We want to celebrate this anniversary year by thanking the founders, members, partners and local community who have made the Henry's Fork Foundation's work possible. This river remains vibrant and healthy because of you.

To learn more about the Henry's Fork foundation visit us at 801 Main or online at henrysfork.org

Ashton Area Chamber of Commerce are excited to congratulate Henry's Fork Foundation on their 35 year anniversary this year. We thank them for all the good they have done for our area over the years.
