Business Spotlight:

Henry's Fork Farmers Market began back in 2010 when farmer's markets were starting to become quite popular in the bigger cities. So a group of individuals got together and went to a class in Pocatello on how to begin your own farmer's market in your town. Making sure they have a lot of agriculture based items and homemade items at the market, the Henry's Fork Farmers Market is onto their 6th year in business. With their location in the grassy area across from Trail's Inn and next door to Dr. Toenjes office. The Henry's Fork Farmers Market will be every Friday from 4-7pm from June 5th -September 18th. Some items one might find at the market are fresh raised eggs, homemade breads, homemade jams & jellies, homemade soap, nice blankets and afghans, yummy homemade candies, and fresh produce. They will also be offering nursery plants for your gardens. This year the Henry's Fork Farmers Market are going to feature a different vegetable or fruit each week. They will include recipes for the featured item from the Ashton Cookbook which will also be available at the market to purchase. So if you are lucky to grow a nice bountiful garden this summer and just can't eat it all, this might be the ticket for you! So, when you have a chance this summer check out the Henry's Fork Farmers Market, and you might find something that you will enjoy. For more information contact Cicely Kuehl @ 360-8954 or Beth Wright @ 206-5657. Come visit us on July 4th from 10-2 for a special market during the parade! LIKE THEM ON FACEBOOK!
